

Acquarella How to Use:

Acquarella is a new paradigm in nail care products and nail preparation is the key to your success. Only a few simple changes will have to be made to optimize your experience if you are used to and have been using conventional nail polish. Let's simplify your conventional experience with the few simple changes found below.

Preparation

For best results with the Acquarella system, we recommend using Acquarella Conditioner to prepare the nails. This preparation cycle accelerates the process of adding moisture to your nail and removes many oils and emollients that interfere with the adherence of Acquarella Nail Polish.

First Day

- Wash hands and nails with soap and warm water. Buff nails to create a smooth, clean nail surface.
- Rinse and dry hands and nails to remove buffing debris. Swab nails only with Acquarella Remover.
- Apply two thin coats of Acquarella Conditioner

Remaining 3 to 4 Days

Following the above steps, be careful to use Acquarella Remover on all subsequent removal to avoid oils and emollients found in conventional removers. We recommend you discontinue buffing for the remaining days of the preparation cycle.

You're nails now hydrated and ready to use Acquarella Nail Polish.

Application is simple...

- Wash hands and nails with soap and warm water. Buff nails to create a smooth, clean nail surface.
- Rinse and dry hands and nails to remove buffing debris. Swab nails only with Acquarella Remover.
- Apply two thin coats of Acquarella Nail Polish

Remove and repeat as often as you like.

Remover

Moisten a cotton pad and apply to nail. Hold in place for a few seconds and then wipe off nail polish. It conditions your nails while gently and thoroughly removing Acquarella Nail Polish and Conditioner.

Moisturizer

Shake well before use. Massage several drops into dry skin to moisturize, soften and protect. Acquarella Moisturizer may be applied before and after a manicure or pedicure.

All Acquarella products are for external use only.

Acquarella Tips:

The following are some general tips and hints for getting the most out of Acquarella nail care products:

- Acquarella Nail Polish will wash off up to one minute from application, with standard tap water, if you decide on another color or wish to repaint a nail.
- Best time to apply Acquarella Nail Polish or Conditioner is right before retiring in the evening. This allows the Acquarella Nail Polish ample time to "cure" while you sleep (6+ hours).
- The shine and color will last as long as the polish.
- We recommend that you do not use soaps and shampoos that you find are hard on the polish over time. You may also give the polish more time to "cure" before coming in contact.
- Do not use lotions or oils before applying nail polish. To moisturize hands before using Acquarella Nail Polish, use Acquarella Moisturizer.
- Remove polish only with Acquarella Remover to avoid hindering Acquarella's binding properties.
- If you happen to spill Acquarella Nail Polish or Conditioner, cleanup is best achieved by blotting the surface with a paper towel dampened with Acquarella Remover. For fabrics and carpet, wetting the affected surface with water within a minute of contact should help removal with the blotting technique.
- If your nail polish starts to thicken over a long period of time, simply add a drop or two of distilled water and shake bottle.
